Coordinate the systems before deadlines collide

The district, college, testing agencies, and Office of Student Financial Assistance handle different records. Keep one family dashboard, then verify each requirement with the authority that controls it.

Important

This tracker is educational organization support, not an eligibility determination. Institutional agreements and scholarship rules can change.

Eligibility and enrollment action tracker

Current statewide guidance lists home education students as eligible when they meet the applicable GPA, college-readiness, institutional, and articulation-agreement requirements.

Action	Authority/contact	Due	Completed	Proof/location
Confirm home education status
Review college eligibility
Verify GPA/readiness route
Complete application
Submit district affidavit/proof
Complete orientation/advising
Choose approved courses
Sign articulation documents
Register
Confirm materials/transportation

Current statewide baseline

Florida DOE currently lists a 3.0 unweighted high-school GPA for college-credit dual enrollment or 2.0 for career dual enrollment, plus college-readiness and institution-specific requirements. Verify the current institution agreement.

2026-27 verification snapshot

The current handbook lists Florida Academic Scholars and Florida Medallion Scholars requirements. Record the official values for the student's graduation year and do not rely on an older screenshot or third-party summary.

Requirement	FAS current table	FMS current table	Student status
Required course credits	16 specified credits	16 specified credits
Weighted BF GPA	3.50	3.00
ACT / CLT / SAT	29 / 95 / 1330	24 / 82 / 1190
Volunteer service	100 hours	75 hours
Paid work	100 hours	100 hours
Combination	100 total hours	100 total hours
FFAA	Final-year application	Final-year application

Home education route

The current handbook says students using the home education route must be registered with their district for grades 11 and 12, meet current test and hours requirements, and submit the FFAA during the final year. Recheck the handbook for the student's graduation year.
