START WITH STATUS

The participation route depends on the student

Do not begin with a team promise. Begin with the student's current education status, county of residence, sport or activity, and the organization that controls eligibility.

Student detail	Current answer	Source/person confirming	Date verified
Education status
County of residence
Grade/age

Prior school/team
Target school/organization
Season dates
Scholarship status

Why this matters

FHSAA publishes separate paperwork for home education and PEP students. Community leagues, clubs, private organizations, and recreation programs may use different rules.

MAP THE ROUTE

Where may the student seek participation?

Current FHSAA starting point

FHSAA states that a home education or PEP student may seek participation through a home education cooperative, a public school in the county of residence, or an agreement with a private school in the county. Adjacent-county options and appeals come later in the published sequence when local options are unavailable.

Route to check	Contact	Sport offered?	Agreement needed?	Result/date
Home education cooperative
Public/charter/lab school in county
Private school in county
Adjacent-county option
Independent/community league
Club/travel organization

Forms, approvals, and dates

FHSAA forms

FHSAA's current participation page lists EL1 when applicable, EL2, and EL3 for all students. It also lists GA4, EL7, and EL7V for home education students, and GA4 and EL15 for PEP students participating at another school. Open the current forms page before using this list.

ASK BEFORE COMMITTING

Questions for the school, coach, or program

- ☐ Which governing rules and school policies apply to this student status?
- ☐ Which team, school, or county may the student use, and who makes the final decision?
- ☐ Which forms are required, and what are the earliest tryout and paperwork deadlines?
- ☐ Are there residency, age, grade, academic-progress, transfer, or prior-participation rules?
- ☐ Who verifies home education or PEP status, and how long does verification take?
- ☐ What fees, uniforms, equipment, insurance, travel, fundraising, and volunteer duties apply?
- ☐ How are schedule changes, injuries, disputes, and appeals handled?
- ☐ What written confirmation will the family receive after eligibility is approved?
